SANGAMO Case Study

The Services

Relocation of new lab equipment from Richmond, CA to the new facility in Brisbane, CA. Highly sensitive and fragile lab equipment was relocated over 2 weekends in June 2019. The lab equipment was set in place and installed once inside the building. The project involved careful planning to safely move the equipment inside the new facility, including a pre-move walk-through with the customer to go over path of travel for lab equipment delivery and coordination with the rigging company.

The Challenge

While reviewing the access points, we found that the 7 brand new Bio Safety Cabinets (BSC) would require special rigging services to get to their destination. All lab equipment can fit the elevator except for those 7 BSC's. After identifying the optimal access point, we coordinated their move-in with the rigging company where we could distribute them to their final location across multiple floors.

The Result

■ No damage ■ Zero down time for staff ■ 98% under budget

Whatever move project you have,
we bring the right experience.

Professional and well-trained team.

CLIENT TESTIMONIAL

“NOR-CAL Moving Services was an integral and key supplier involved in our Brisbane, CA office and lab relocation project. We were very impressed with their professionalism throughout the whole project. From the sales team to the relocation teams who worked tirelessly over the move weekends, everyone was very friendly, helpful and easy to work with. They understood our requirements, the challenges, the nature of our business and worked closely with us to ensure that the move did not affect our day to day business activity. They were flexible and assisted us with any last minute changes and challenges that arose. They not only move the simple items, they also move complex and sensitive lab equipment to the exact location and they also provide installation services. They made the whole move project smooth and seamless. I'll definitely recommend NOR-CAL for my next move project.”
